Dear George Friend,

Perhaps you have heard of Congressman Stewart McKinney's campaign on the Hill, attempting to raise funds for Vietnamese refugee relief. In a radio report this morning, I understand that the Congressman hopes to raise an average of $2.00 each from nearly 14,000 Hill employees. Because I felt that the fund raising drive had great humanitarian effort, our Congressional Liaison Office here at Commerce has volunteered to participate. It was my thought that you might want to consider doing likewise with your coworkers in as much as we are all involved in Congressional activities.

I have since learned that checks should be made out to either the Catholic Relief Service or the American Friends Service Committee and forwarded to Mr. McKinney's office. Further information can be obtained through the Congressman's office.

With all good wishes,

Sincerely,

James M. Sparling, Jr.
